Conductor's Words

After an excellent start to the new season we welcome a new violinist, cellist, returning cellist and a percussion player to the ranks with another violinist in the pipe line.

We are very sorry to lose Helen through ill health. Helen was instrumental in the formation of NCO and her contribution as secretary and librarian has been vital to its success: not to mention her beautiful oboe playing.

We are also sorry to see Frances leave the orchestra due to ill health, having played with us for a number of years. She will be sadly missed.

I am much looking forward to our celebration concert on the 6th November after 12 years since NCO started music making and delighting audiences in the area. Unfortunately we missed the two Covid years so the concert will be celebrating our 10 playing years.

The HSO is continuing to spark great enthusiasm with the next huge venture: a rare performance in the area and by an amateur orchestra of Shostakovich's monumental 10th Symphony: don't miss this epic performance of Shostakovich's masterpiece: his personal reaction against the oppressive Stalin regime!

Don't forget there is no rehearsal on Tuesday 25th October due to half term.

In Other News

We had an amazing donation of two drums and together with practising for the up-coming concert on the 6th November have been practicing the exciting new composition by local composer Andy Wilson arranged and orchestrated for NCO by Bryan. This work, the Nidderdale Suite which is accompanied by a film by Paul Harris will be performed in full in 2023 with a taster in the November 6th concert.

Everyone seems to be pleased to be back rehearsing in Nidderdale High School; gathering round the urn generates lots of 'catching up' between members!
